Eating around the world

Food and the way we <sup>1</sup>_____ it is different in every country, <sup>2</sup>_____ there are many things which are the same.

All over the world, people eat <sup>3</sup>_____ (e.g. rice), protein, vegetables, fruit and dairy. But how <sup>4</sup>_____ of these foods do we eat? In some countries, for example Argentina, people eat a lot of <sup>5</sup>_____ because they live in a <sup>6</sup>_____ with a lot of animals for beef. People in other areas, e.g. the Mediterranean, eat a <sup>7</sup>_____ which has a lot of vegetables, fruit and also <sup>8</sup>_____ from the sea. In cold countries, it is more <sup>9</sup>_____ to grow fruit, so they eat more meat, fish and dairy products like <sup>10</sup>_____.

How we eat food is also similar <sup>11</sup>_____ in most countries, families usually have a main meal together or they enjoy <sup>12</sup>_____ friends to go <sup>13</sup>_____ for dinner to a restaurant or to a friend's house. The difference is that in some countries, <sup>14</sup>_____ is the most important meal of the day and in others, it's dinner.

For many of us, trying these differences is one of the most enjoyable things we can do <sup>15</sup>_____ we are travelling!

City versus countryside?

Most of my friends now live in the countryside. They hate living in the city because it's very noisy and dirty, they have to use the underground or buses to travel anywhere and it's always very crowded. I know these things are true, but I like the city because there are more things to do there than in the countryside.

I think cities are a better place to live because I love history; there are a lot of monuments to see and cultural activities to do. Every day, you can visit galleries and museums or you can go to the opera, the ballet or the theatre in the evening. Also, there are a lot of big sporting events in the city and they sometimes use the stadiums for some of the biggest pop concerts. There's more choice about where you can live, too – from a small house with a garden to a flat at the top of a skyscraper.

Most cities have one or two big universities and it's much easier to find a job in a city. People are often angry about the transport, but I like travelling to work because I can think or read on the bus or underground, or you can cycle to work and get fit. Then there are a lot of things you can do with friends – it's easy to meet for coffee or dinner. There are a lot of restaurants with different types of food, for example Italian and Indian, and you can get delicious snacks like yoghurt drinks or ice creams. The sports facilities are much better in a city, too. There are gyms and places to play volleyball and tennis. I know there are golf courses in the countryside, but sometimes you have to pay quite a lot of money to join a golf club.

For me, one of the best things about living in a city is that you can meet people from all over the world. I love talking to people from other countries. I don't think I could ever live in the countryside!
