• Topic and Inquiry-based Learning

Compass topics are developed from questions—life's essential big questions—about knowledge, society and humankind, and about the natural world. These questions encourage students to explore and personalize language while developing different skills. In each Log, students examine the same big questions from different perspectives.

COMPASS

Topics about Me

Who am I?
What have I done in my life?
What do I wish for?

COMPASS

Topics about the Natural World

What can animals do?
How does the weather change?
How do living things change?

COMPASS

Topics about Society and Humankind

Who helps me?
What influences who I am?
What events changed the world?

• Language Log

The Compass Language Log provides explicit grammar and vocabulary instruction and a methodical, competency-based development of the four skills (Reading, Listening, Speaking and Writing) according to the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR). At the end of each topic, students work on an extensive task or project that requires them to apply and demonstrate new language, skills and concepts with a strong focus on production, as they explore and answer the topic question.

Vocabulary

Watch the video. What is the podcast about?

Watch again. Are the children happy with their project?

Listen and complete the poem.

Solids, Liquids, Gases

_____ don't change _____ or size.
Hold them in your hands, use your eyes:
_____ change shape, but don't change
Fill your car—you can see them with your eyes:
Gases change _____ and change size.
They're in the air:
They're hard to see, but they're there.

Read the poem out loud.

Complete the sentences with science verbs.

1 You can _____ liquids from one container to another.
2 When solids _____, they become liquids.
3 When liquids _____, they become solids.

Lesson 1

Grammar

Listen and follow.

DOES ICE MELT FASTER IN HOT PLACES? THINK JOY

THAT'S INTERESTING...

First, Marika asks a question and makes a hypothesis.

Then, she does an experiment and measures her results.

ICE MELTS FASTEST IN THE HOTTEST PLACE. I WAS RIGHT!

AH! WHERE ARE ALL THE ICE CUBES?

Present Simple for Facts

I/You/We/They _____ change. _____ don't change.

Speaking

Agreeing and Disagreeing

I agree, I agree with (you/them/him/her).
I don't agree. I disagree.
Yes, I think that's right.
No, I don't think that's right.

At WHAT temperature do these THINGS freeze?

Freezing temperature in Degrees Celsius (°C)	Water	Ketchup	Milk	Olive Oil	Eggs	Honey
-1°C
-5°C
-10°C

Discuss the question in activity 1 for milk, olive oil, eggs and honey. Agree and disagree. Complete the chart.

1 I think milk freezes at -1°C.
I disagree. I think it freezes at -5°C.

Listen and check.

Discuss.

1 Which things freeze at a lower temperature than water?
2 Which substance never freezes? Why?

Lesson 5

Listening

Using Visual Information to Help You Understand

After you listen, look for visual information, such as pictures and graphs. They can help you understand.

Where are the people in each dialogue? Look at the pictures and guess.

Listen and check.

1 Listen again. Choose the picture that shows the end of each story.

Choose the correct verbs.

1 Steam condenses / freezes on cold surfaces. (gas → liquid)
2 Hot water boils and evaporates / melts. (liquid → gas)
3 Snow condenses / melts in warm weather. (solid → liquid)
4 Rain condenses / freezes and becomes snow. (liquid → solid)

What other things can melt, condense, freeze or evaporate? Discuss.

Lesson 4 | 13

Vocabulary and grammar input plus practice help students answer the Big Question.

Speaking and Listening skills are the focus of two lessons.

• Vocabulary and Grammar Log

The Compass Vocabulary and Grammar Log offers students the opportunity to practice, systematize, and test their learning of the new vocabulary and grammar studied in the Language Log.

The Compass Vocabulary and Grammar Log provides additional practice for use in the classroom or at home.

Topic 1 How does science work?

1 Look, read and complete with the correct words.

1 A _____ has its own size, but it takes the shape of its container, like when you _____ it into a glass.

4 Number the stages in the correct order.

Lesson 2 | 5

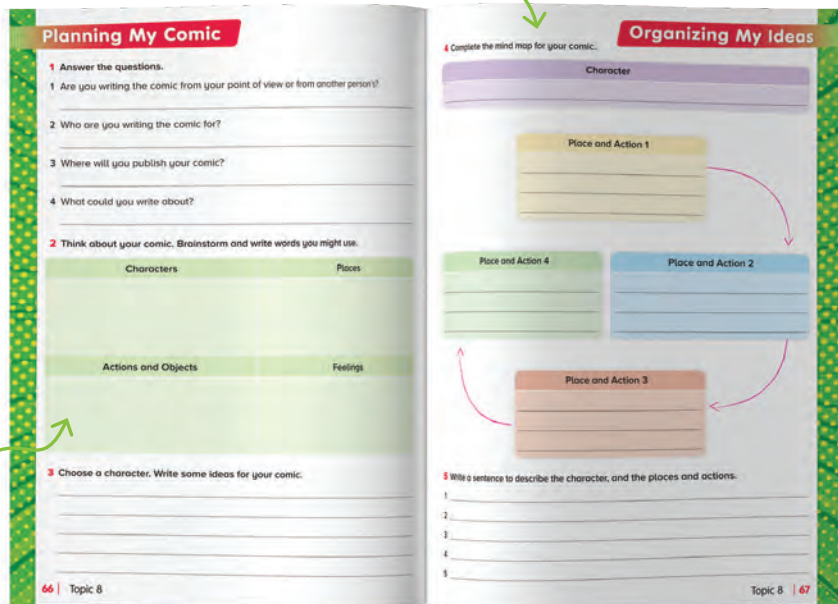

• Reading Log

The Compass Reading Log offers students a vibrant, appealing reading program that helps them explore the Big Questions from different perspectives. As they use the Compass Reading Log, they will be exposed to a wide range of texts from fiction to nonfiction genres.

Many texts were written by published international children's authors.

Graphic organizers facilitate the organization of information.

Different activities guide brainstorming before the writing process.

• Writing Log

The Compass Writing Log includes US Common Core writing strategies, following a scaffolded product and process writing approach. The writing program allows students to learn about and produce a wide range of age- and level-appropriate texts through guided, engaging writing tasks.

• Phonics and Spelling Log

The Compass Phonics and Spelling Log is based on US Common Core Standards, with an expanded syllabus to cover six levels. Scaffolded presentation and practice of English sounds and spelling rules enable young readers to decode words and explore new texts. The Compass Phonics and Spelling Log is available on the Compass Platform exclusively.

Introductions to the core vocabulary and phonics strategy include audio support, so students can identify and produce sounds and spellings.

Fun chants help students practice and remember new phonics and spelling concepts.

Compass Starter Level

In Compass Starter, students begin their exploration voyage with the Captain of the Compass and his companion, Davy.

• Language Log

When students begin their journey, they may respond mainly at the gesture or word level. Nonverbal response cards are included with the Compass Starter Language Log. By the end of this level, students will be able to give extended spoken responses, to read short texts and write at a sentence or paragraph level. This is achieved through different strategies taught across the program modules, and also through exposure to the wide range of vocabulary Compass Starter offers.

Compass Starter Language Log offers a solid language program through the clear teaching of vocabulary and grammar together with focused reading, writing, listening and speaking skills work. This enables students to develop their communication skills and become fluent and accurate.

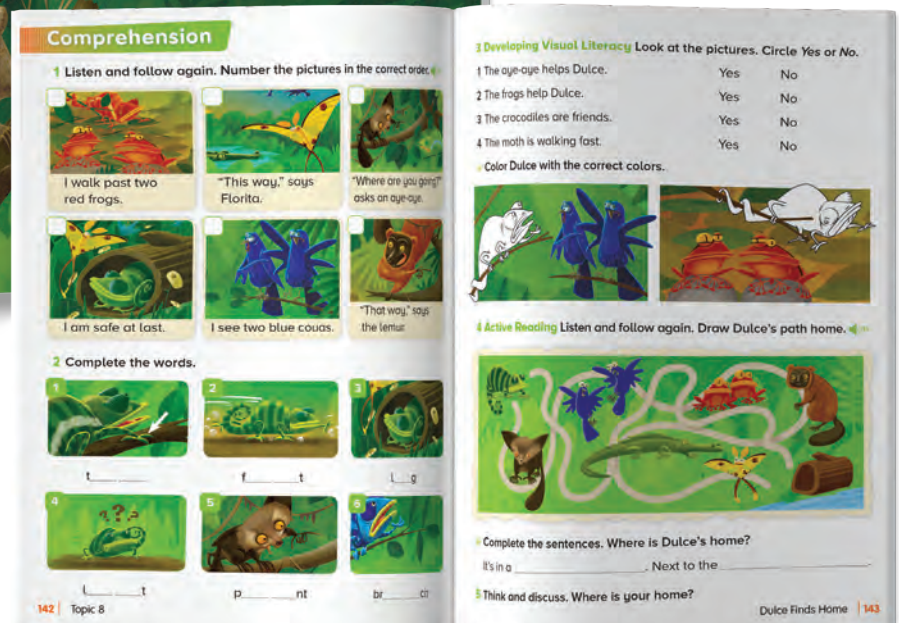

Speaking and listening skills are the focus of two lessons. The Compass Starter Language Log also includes a complete Synthetic Phonics program.

The fiction reading lesson is accompanied by a lively video program.

• Reading Log

Through the Compass Starter Reading Log, students are exposed to a variety of fiction and nonfiction texts. These will help them increase their understanding of the Big Questions, as well as introducing them to the wonderful world of reading. A video narration accompanies the fiction text.

• Writing Log

The Compass Starter Writing Log guides students to write their first texts. Following a carefully scaffolded process writing approach, they create a fiction and a nonfiction text about each topic. Students work with sample texts, graphic organizers and draft pages before writing and illustrating their final texts.

Along the year, students gradually move from word- to sentence-level writing. The Writing Log helps students produce meaningful, creative and coherent texts at the paragraph level, too. At this level, spaces are provided to help learners with the development of fine motor-skills, so that letter formation is simple and their writing is legible.

DIGITAL

Compass Bonding Booklet

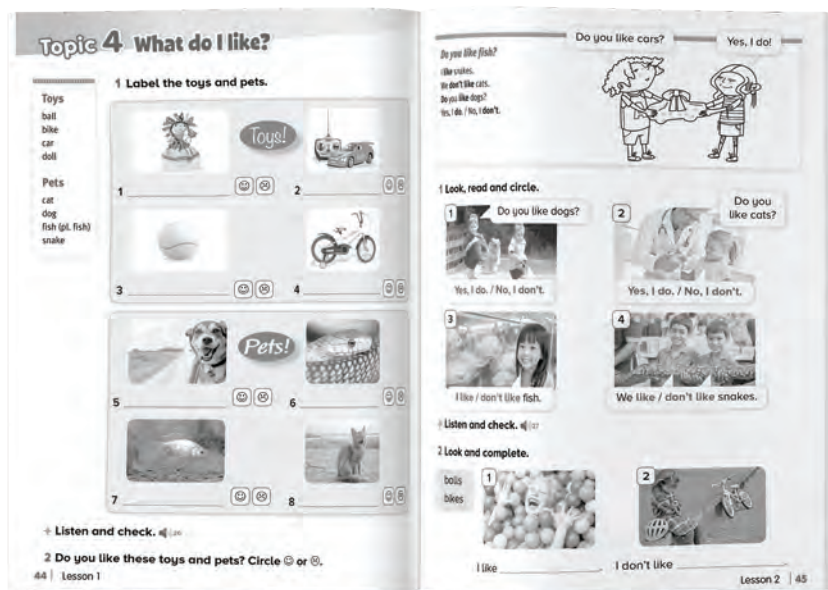

This booklet is unique to the COMPASS program. It helps families and schools connect, and together encourage students to maximize their learning opportunities.

• Vocabulary and Grammar Log

The Compass Vocabulary and Grammar Log offers students the opportunity to practice, systematize, and test their learning of the new vocabulary and grammar studied in the Language Log.

The Compass Vocabulary and Grammar Log provides additional practice for use in the classroom or at home.

In Open Day, students learn to communicate confidently in English. At each level, students are accompanied by characters called Good Buddies. They appear in stories with animals that are or have been critically endangered. This contact with endangered species will inspire students to become balanced human beings who care about the world they live in.

With Open Day, students will:

- learn vocabulary and language aligned to the CEFR standards.
- get acquainted with international certification formats for young learners.
- explore content from other subject areas (CLIL).
- learn to enjoy life's moments through mindfulness activities.
- become productive members of their community through activities in the Citizenship section.
- consolidate their knowledge about each topic by doing projects.
- share information about themselves through personalised tasks.
- develop critical thinking through the investigation of life's important questions.

Topic 1 Unit 1 My Friends

The presentation of language is through a two-page comic strip. A third page focuses on another language point or the reinforcement of the previous ones.

Time to Practice provides students with an opportunity to reinforce recently acquired language with test-format exercises in the four skills: listening and speaking in the first unit of a topic and reading and writing in the second one.

A complete page is dedicated to Mindfulness activities for students to develop awareness of their thoughts, feelings and emotions.

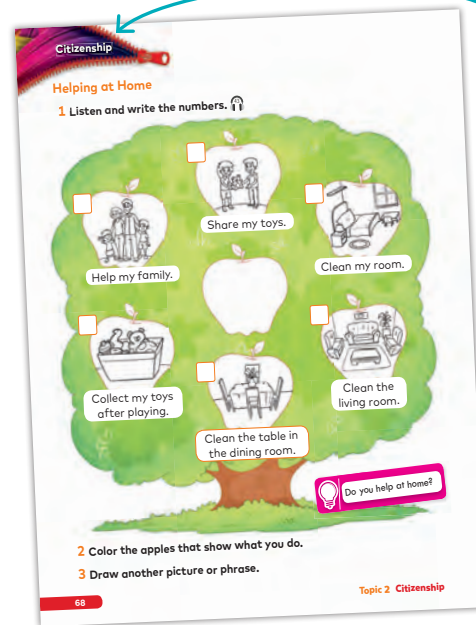

Sounds Fun! includes songs, tongue twisters and games to provide phonemic awareness and practice of specific sounds that move from simple to complex structures throughout the six levels.

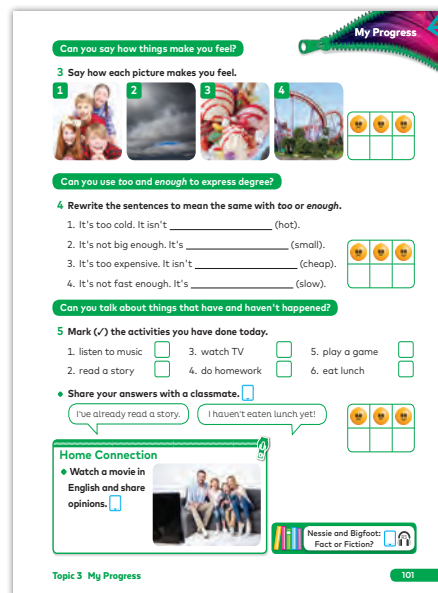

My Skills pages allow students to develop strategies in the four skills with a wide variety of tasks, including test-format activities.

The Citizenship page contains activities focused on values and encourages reflection and critical thinking.

The CLIL page promotes critical thinking and provides students with a chance to apply previous knowledge in a different content area.

My Progress consists of a series of can-do questions for students to reflect on their performance throughout the topic. Each question is followed by a short task for them to obtain evidence of their progress through self-evaluation.

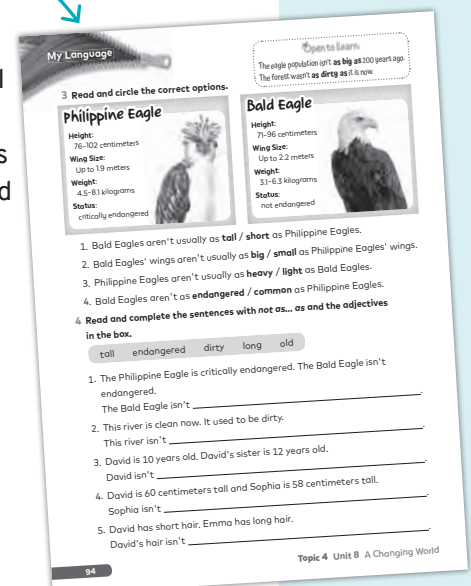

• Readers

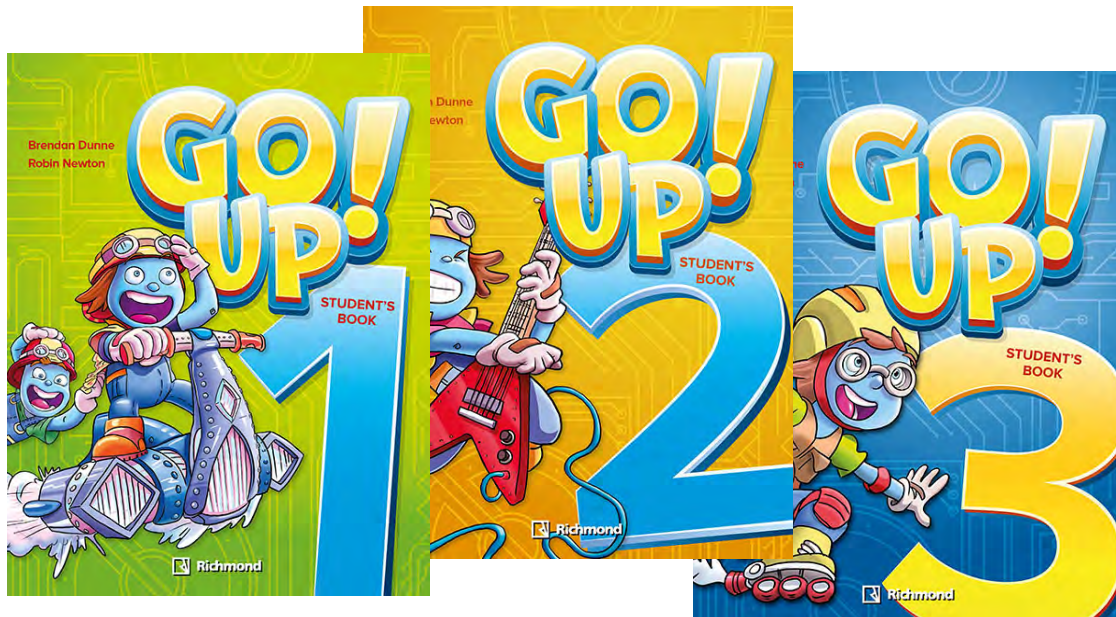

There are four Readers per level where students will read enjoyable stories related to each topic in the Student's Book.

The Orbit unit openers are visually attractive two-page spreads that stimulate students' interest and curiosity.

There is a WELCOME UNIT in every book that presents the story and the group of characters in each level.

Key questions aim at promoting interest and activating previous knowledge. Answers to the questions are revealed in the unit story, in which the group of kids of different nationalities interact and look for the solution to the problem presented at the beginning.

Social and emotional competencies are developed in the stories.

Activities that develop social and emotional competencies have the icon  to identify them.

The GOODBYE UNIT at the end of every book links the story to the next level, to stimulate students' curiosity.

A REVIEW section every two units offers the opportunity to revise the content learned in class and consolidate key points.

Teacher's Book

Young Achievers will challenge and motivate. A blend of skills, a fast-paced grammar syllabus, and phonics provides children with a strong foundation. This, combined with a cross-curricular and cultural focus gives primary students all the tools they need for success. Throughout the course, students are presented with integrated external exam practice for both Trinity GESE and Cambridge Exams to give them the confidence they need. Young Achievers aims to provide children with all the support they need to achieve all their language goals.

Key features of Young Achievers:

- emergent grammar in a spiral programme: students discover grammar rules at their own pace over several presentations
- CLIL pages with hands-on projects
- a structured reading programme with original stories and a comprehensive phonics and spelling programme
- writing programme
- downloadable assessments, worksheets, templates, flashcards and posters that enrich students' learning experience and cater to all learning styles
- extensive practice on every page of the Student's Book and Activity Book to help students learn naturally at their own pace

How tidy is your bedroom?

Watch 10 min You are practising to understand a listening text about school.

THE BIG TEENAGE CHALLENGE

Can you keep your bedroom tidy for a week? That's this week's Big Teenage Challenge!
Get inspired in Roommate-year-old Harry from Macclesfield.

DAY 1

You're very tidy... says Harry. Here's his room!
 There's a big wardrobe in the room, but there aren't any clothes in it – they're all on the bed.
 On the floor, there are some dirty clothes.
 Under his bed, there's a sweater and a pair of shoes.
 On Harry's desk, there are a lot of books.
 To the games cupboard, there are hundreds of games and... an old television. Light

DAY 2

You're! What a different Harry's room is clean and tidy. And there are clothes on the floor? No, there aren't? They're in the wardrobe. There isn't a sweater on the bed now, but the shirts are all in the binocular case on his bed. Everything in the right place, but can Harry keep his bedroom tidy for a whole week? Find out on Day 7...

Profession: Harry's games, comics, writing group

GRAMMAR

There is / There are + a/an, some, any

There is is used for singular nouns.
There are is used for plural nouns.

Use these with the grammar exercises.

1 In your notebook, complete the grammar box with a/an, some or any.

	Affirmative	Negative
Simple Present	There's always a cat in my house. There aren't any beds in this house.	There isn't any milk in the fridge. There aren't any shoes in the wardrobe.
Present Continuous	There is someone on my phone. There isn't anything on the floor!

2 Copy and complete the sentences about Harry's house. Use the correct affirmative or negative form of There is/are.

There's (bedroom) There's a desk in his wall's kitchen. There's an alarm clock in his parent's room. There's any lamp in the dining room. There's a book in Harry's room. There's some books in the living room.

Prepositions of place

Where is the mobile phone? Match the prepositions with the pictures.

Under In Behind Next to On top of

3 Write sentences about the bedroom. Use There is/are and the prepositions of place.

There's a desk in Harry's bedroom.
 1. games console / desk, 4. bookcase / desk,
 2. alarm clock / desk, 5. guitar / desk,
 3. books / bookcase, 6. table / bed.

4 Work in pairs. Student B: Close your book, Student A: Open the book. Open the picture book.

5 Find opposites!

Write sentences about your classroom. Write a negative sentence for each.

There's a big desk in my classroom.

1 Look at the pictures. What do you think the article is about? Read, listen and check.

2 Read again. Change the underlined sentence so that the sentences are correct.

Harry is in the bedroom. He is in the bedroom.
 On Day 1, Harry's room was on the desk. On Day 1, Harry's room was on the desk.
 On Day 2, the clothes are on the floor. On Day 2, the clothes are on the floor.
 On Day 3, the games are on the desk. On Day 3, the games are on the desk.

3 Match names. Make pairs of opposite adjectives.

Harry is tidy. Harry is messy. Harry is clean. Harry is dirty. Harry is neat. Harry is untidy. Harry is organized. Harry is disorganized.

4 Work in pairs. How tidy is your bedroom? Did you remember about the things before?

My desk is tidy, but my bed is not so tidy.

5 Find out. The Bedroom in a Day is a famous article by Vincent van Gogh of the bedroom. Find the answers to the questions.

1. What colour are the walls?
 2. How many chairs are there?
 3. What is there above the table?

My uncles' houses

It's strange that two brothers can be so different! I've got two uncles – Uncle Jack and Uncle Tom. Everything about them is different, including their homes.

Uncle Jack lives in a very small, wooden house. There are only two rooms in it – a bedroom and a kitchen. The bedroom has a bed, a small desk and a chair. In the kitchen there's a little cooker and a sink – but nothing else. There isn't even a fridge! Uncle Jack's milk and cheese are outside. And where's the toilet? Well, that's also outside... (Don't ask!)

Now, Uncle Tom's house is very different. It's big, so you can see from the picture. There are five bedrooms and three bathrooms. Uncle Tom likes having visitors! The living room is really big and has three comfortable sofas. My favourite room is the kitchen – there are three fridges! And everything is clean and tidy.

So, which house do I prefer? Well, I really like both of them for different reasons!

By Alice Summers

Each level begins with a Welcome unit that aims at recycling the contents from the previous level. In the case of the Starter level, the Welcome Unit deals with English words and simple structures students probably know. The Starter level has six units more and levels 1-3 eight units more. Levels 1-3 are also available in Split Editions.

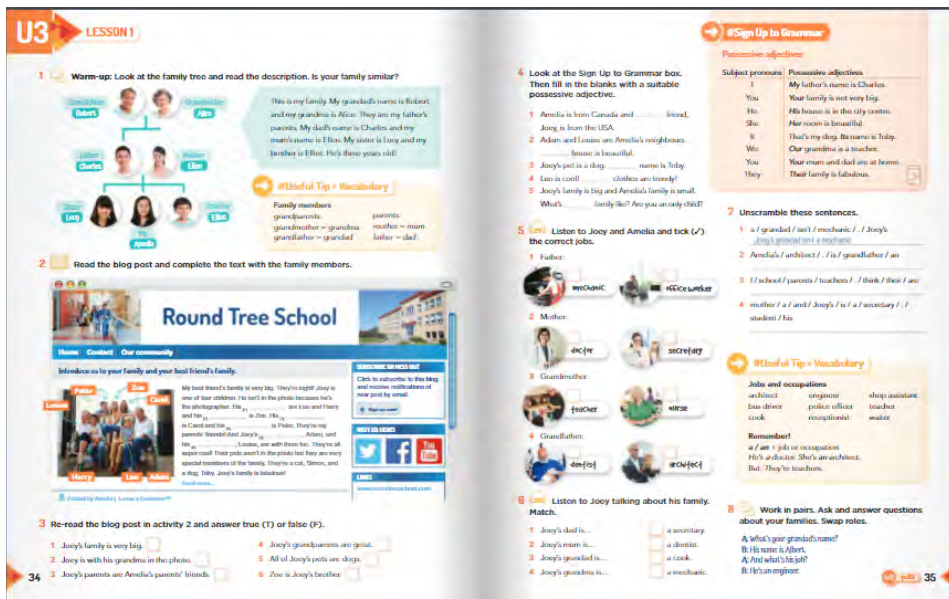

New self-assessment opportunity helps students reflect about their own learning process and be fully conscious of their strengths and weaknesses in relation to the Unit Goals.

New #Pic of the Unit presents questions which establish the central topics of the unit and promote critical thinking, curiosity and interest in learning.

A clearer grammar and vocabulary presentation and Sign Up to Grammar Boxes in every lesson are followed by online Interactive Activities which can be traced when used in platforms. These provide fun and engaging practice, reinforcement, extension and consolidation of the grammar and vocabulary topics studied.

Improved Useful Tips Boxes offer extra information about grammar or vocabulary topics, and pronunciation or spelling in relation to the lesson topic.

New SEL activities help students reflect on their emotions and develop their critical thinking and social skills.

- The last lesson in the unit is the Review Lesson. This offers constant opportunities for recycling and integration.

- There's a NEW Project Work section with a Project every two units. This section offers the possibility to carry out a range of hands-on activities in which students will need to apply what they have learnt in these units and which can be solved in traditional ways or involving the use of technology.

The World Issues section every two units offers extra reading opportunities and focuses on the development of different reading skills and vocabulary enhancement. It also provides knowledge and insight on different cultures and reflection and appreciation of their own.

- Workbook

The Workbook section provides students with additional lesson-by-lesson practice of the grammar and vocabulary topics studied in the unit and further opportunities to develop their macro skills in an integrated manner.

Primary Methodology Handbook

Practical Ideas for ELT

Patricia Grounds, Suzanne Guerrero, Carol Lethaby, Caroline Moore and Joep van der Werff

The Primary Methodology Handbook provides clear explanations of key teaching methodology concepts in a way that is accessible to new and experienced teachers alike. Comprehension and reflection activities engage and guide the reader, consolidating new information and facilitating its application in the classroom. The Handbook covers essential areas of study for English instruction in primary schools.

A genuinely practical handbook for primary teachers that links ELT theory to real-life classroom situations!

Key Features of the Primary Methodology Handbook include:

- An overview of the characteristics of primary learners and childhood development.
- Guidelines for test writing and assessment.
- Guidance in teaching mixed-ability groups and support strategies for special needs students.
- Tips for integrating technology into the learning process.
- Suggestions for improving classroom management and student motivation.
- Fun language games and activities for all primary levels.
- A guide for lesson planning with textbooks, supplementary and self-made materials.
- Video tutorials demonstrating teaching strategies from the Handbook.

Lessons Learned

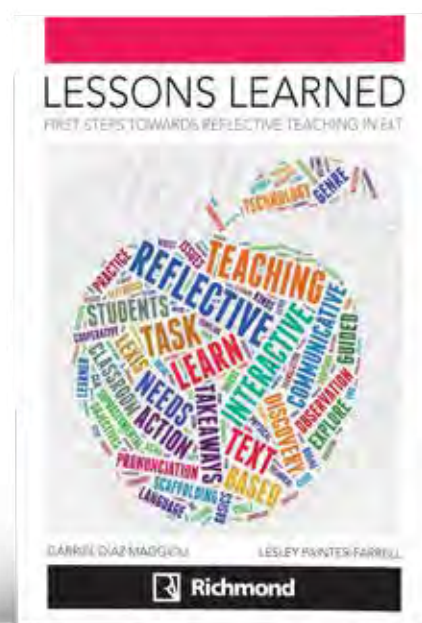

First Steps Towards Reflective Teaching in ELT

Gabriel Díaz Maggioli and Lesley Painter-Farrell

Lessons Learned: introduces aspiring teachers to the main principles and practices associated with reflective teaching in the field of foreign and second language instruction. It can also be used as a reference and resource in professional development programs for more experienced language teachers wishing to update their professional knowledge base.

Key Features:

- Accessible language, clearly introduced content, mind maps, pictures and diagrams facilitate understanding
- Reflective Journal Tasks, Observation Tasks and Portfolio Tasks at the end of each chapter help to consolidate and keep record of the information learned throughout the chapter
- Written by experienced authors, well-known world wide from the world of ELT

Pathway to Science: Enhanced Digital Edition is based on the Scientific Method, where students observe, question, experiment and discover the world around them. As this version is only available online, all the activities are fully interactive, with integrated audio and video. Learners also develop competencies in science while developing their English language proficiency. The course includes contents aligned with the program Exploration and Comprehension of the Natural and Social World, published by the Mexican Ministry of Education in 2017.

With Pathway to Science: Enhanced Digital Edition, students will:

- interactively observe, question, experiment and discover the world around them through motivating, educational activities online.
- perform a hands-on practical experiment for each topic in the Science Lab session.
- explore competencies in science while advancing and enriching their English language proficiency.
- satisfy your and their curricular needs through a broad range of scientific topics.
- experience blended learning and the flipped classroom with the new enhanced online-only format.
- have fun and learn simultaneously with videos.

Components and resources:

Pathway to Science: Enhanced Digital Edition guides students step-by-step to learn interactively about the world around them.

Each lesson is divided into various sessions to cover the topic students are working with.

The objective of each topic is easily identified in the heading.

Throughout each topic, students will work with fully interactive activities.

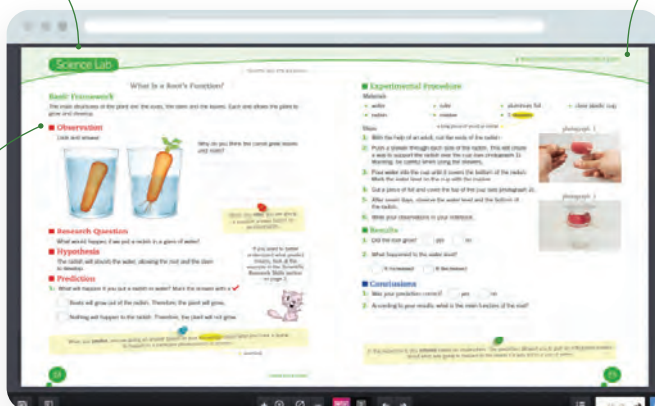

Learning goals are easily identifiable in the top-right corner of each spread.

Clear labels help students and teachers identify the stages of each session.

Throughout each topic, students will find several information boxes. The objectives of the boxes vary from fun facts to language extension activities.

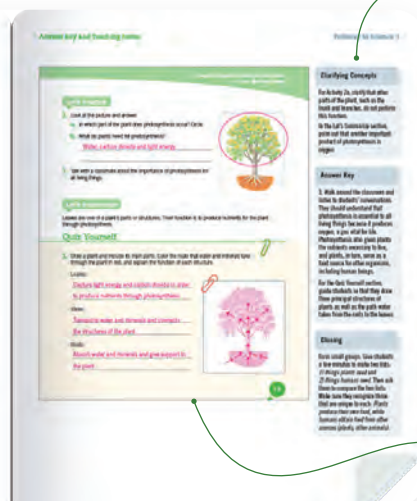

Every topic contains one hands-on activity to put students' newly acquired knowledge in practice.

Each Science Lab is conducted using the different steps of the Scientific Method.

In the top-right corner of each spread, students will find the learning goal of that Science Lab.

• Teacher's Guide

Information boxes, such as Clarifying Concepts and Science Extension provide helpful tips for both teachers and students.

Clear sections provide teachers with the necessary resources.

Now You! is a four-level English secondary course which takes students from A1 to B1+ of the Common European Framework. The course features an eclectic approach which takes the best of the latest developments in ELT teaching methodology and carefully interweaves them within a communicative framework.

Now You! features include:

- Personalisation exercises throughout the books which make every student the focus of their own learning journey and help to consolidate language and skills.
- In every level of the course the student is accompanied by three vloggers who introduce the context of each unit in their Vlogs.
- A wide range of tools for implementing flipped learning.
- Multi-student project tasks which are staged across two units and brought together in a final task, including recapping, preparation for a presentation, and 21st century skills.
- Reading content which is further explored with speaking tasks, in which students focus on and discuss a specific core value.
- Info-gap pairwork activities for each unit at the end of the book. They combine unit content review with mediation strategies which are fully compliant with specifications in the CEFR.
- The Review page at the end of each unit which combines course content with Cambridge exam practice questions, ensuring students are familiar with question format and can apply their knowledge in an exam context.
